Thanksgiving in Kentucky

GOVERNOR'S PROCLAMATION.

WHEREAS, A Christian people should be ever mindful of the manifold blessings continually bestowed upon them by a beneficent Creator; and whereas, the current year has been especially marked by the abundant bestowal of general good health, peace, and prosperity throughout this Commonwealth and our common country;

Now, therefore, I, LUKE P. BLACKBURN, Governor of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, in compliance with a long established usage, do appoint THURSDAY, THE 30th DAY OF NOVEMBER, 1882, as a day of general Thanksgiving and prayer, and recommend that all secular business be suspended on that day, and the people assemble in their usual places of worship, and return sincere and hearty thanks to Almighty God for His continuous goodness, and the blessings so abundantly bestowed upon us.

In witness whereof, I hereto sign my name and cause the seal of the Commonwealth to be affixed. Done at Frankfort, this 6th day of November, A. D. 1882.
LUKE P. BLACKBURN.

JAMES BLACKBURN, Secretary of State.

Madame Rumor has it that Mr. A. J. Greenwell will shortly wed a young lady in this vicinity. The lady who gets him will never want for anything, as he has three modes of making a living—turner, blacksmith, and school teacher—and besides is a good clever fellow.

Season your Thanksgiving turkeys in time.

Mr. H. S. Banta has leased the Walker Stephens place, on the Louisville pike, and will shortly remove to it.

The sidewalk from this city to Taylorton is an assured fact. The amount has been subscribed and the work will be done in a short time.

Mr. John A. Graves, of this city, formerly of Union county, and Miss Cora M. Wilkerson, of this county, eloped from this city Wednesday afternoon and were married at his sister's in Louisville. It seems that Mr. Graves was quite a ladies man and had engaged himself to another young lady in this city who had made her arrangements to marry him next week. It was undoubtedly a cruel disappointment to her, but she can congratulate herself upon having made so narrow an escape from being tied for life to so feeble a creature.

The following is the vote for Congressman in this county on Tuesday:

	BLACKBURN.	ANDREY.
Benson.....	25	1
Peck's Mill.....	155	3
Forbes Elkhorn.....	100	2
Bloomington.....	41	8
Princeton.....	44	8
Cedar Run.....	85	1
Court House.....	255	156
Gins House.....	156	241
	852	441

At Benson one vote was cast for W. H. Sneed and at Court House one for Robinson. The votes at the Market House precinct were thrown out for the reason that the officers of election in that precinct, after counting the ballots, turned them instead of placing them in the box and sealing it up as required by law. The vote there stood, Blackburn, 172; Ashbury, 158.

A Frankfort Dispatch says: "Two men of the Nicholas Guards were wounded."

Why not give their names and the location and character of the wound?—Frankfort Commercial & Courier, 6th inst.

"Their names and the location and character of their wounds" were given in the Louisville Commercial and Courier Journal of the 3d instant and in both the papers of this city on the 4th inst. It can be anxious to know, however, we will give them again:

Corporal Duncan Holmes was slightly wounded in the face by a bullet grazing his cheek.

Private Lewis Scott was struck near the crown of his head by a bullet, which buried itself under the scalp, and the end of the second finger of his left hand was shot off by the same sort of missile.

The boy on the wharf hunt, who fired his little pistol in their, of course wounded them; not the "wild boys" on the ferryboat, oh, no! They were not armed.

A new floor has been laid in the engine house and the stalls have been brought into the back part of the west room of the building and arranged so that the horses face the street, and when an alarm is given by simply pulling a rope a lattice gate in front of each stall is thrown open, the horses are released from their halters, and run to their place. This is very much more convenient than the old arrangement when a large door at the rear of the building as well as the stall doors had to be opened in order to allow the horses to come in, and they do not have so far to go in order to reach their positions. The old stall has been turned into a receptacle for feed, room for which was very much needed heretofore. The Chief has had a restful place in the corner of the building hearing the names of each man employed to remain at the house, and when all are there the names are covered by slices, but when one wishes to leave he is required to pull out the slide over his name and take it with him, and while his name remains uncovered no one else is allowed to leave.

"Rough on Rats."

Clears out rats, mice, roaches, flies, ants, bed-bugs, skunks, chipmunks, gophers, etc. Druggists.

If Catnach has destroyed your sense of smell and hearing, Hall's Catnach Cure will cure you. 75 cents per bottle. Druggists sell it.

There will be an open meeting of the Good Templars at their hall, in Oak Hollow Temple, next Thursday evening, at 7 o'clock. Good speeches, good music, and a good time. Everybody is invited.

Messrs. A. H. and R. K. McClure have sold the large brick dwelling house on Main street known as the Price property, to Messrs. W. A. Gaines & Co., for $6,500 cash. Messrs. Gaines & Co. will tear it away in the spring and erect a large warehouse and office on its site.

The most complete stock of hunting and cooking stoves to be seen in the city is at John T. Buckley's. He has recently enlarged his store-room which enables him to make a handsome display of his stock, and he has some beautiful goods. Mr. Buckley will hereafter remain in the house all the time himself and all the job work left there will receive prompt attention, as he makes that branch of his business a specialty. His terms will be strictly cash in future.

Mr. W. T. Runyan has just received from Messrs. Bernhard, Armstrong & Co., of Philadelphia, one of the nearest cases for holding spool silk we have ever seen. It is of elegant carved walnut, the drawers being glass front, and is filled with spools of silk and twist of all sizes and of every conceivable shade. In the center is a large mirror and in the top is a nice little clock ticking away. It is a handsome piece of furniture and will supply the ladies with some of the prettiest thread they ever ran through the eye of a needle.

V. Berberich, the S. Clair street tailor, is making the newest fitting suits for the lowest cash prices.

MARRIED.

At the residence of the bride's father, on Tuesday 28, Mr. John H. Redick and Miss Mary Taylor, daughter of Thompson Taylor, Esq.

DECEASED.

In Richmond, Va., on the 1st, MARGARET, wife of John H. Redick, 72, and 1/2 years old, in the 60th year of her age.

Known not, mother, ease those bitter tears to shed. Who shouldst thou for the happy and the blessed weep? Thy little baby surely is not dead, But resteth in a quiet holy sleep. Sickles and pain on thee for little forms no more. With her the trials of this cold heartless world. She trusted but enough of this cold heartless world. Even and enough of sadness, pain were given. That when her spirit had its angel wings on. Might know how sweet it is to dwell in Heaven. 'Tis a hard trial for a mother's heart to bear. The Lord is he who gave her to thee did he take the same. Canst thou not say, and ever blessed be His name?

Mr. M. Stewart Cane has been promoted to city editor of the Courier-Journal.

Dr. Sam James was re-elected county physician by the County Court Monday.

Mr. Richard T. Childs will remove to his new house on Second street, South Side, Monday.

The captain of the steamer Granite State seems to have had a revolution since the fight at Ashland.

There will be no wedding in the Elmville neighborhood Thursday of next week, which will not stand in the native.

It is a little strange that no one at Ashland knows or heard of last one shot being fired at the Granite State, and that was by a boy on the wharf boat.

A post office has been re-established at Elmville, in this county, under the name of Wigginton. Mr. W. S. McCond has been appointed postmaster.

The 16th of this month will be a good day for weddings in this city. We have heard of two to take place on that day, with several parties to hear from.

Dr. G. A. D. Brown has removed his family to this city, and they are occupying one of the new cottages recently built by Mrs. A. E. Stephens, on Steele street, South Side.

The Court of Appeals on Sunday reversed the decision in the case of the Commonwealth against Henry White, charged with stealing bonds from a bank in Lexington. He will now have another trial.

The County Court on Monday elected Joseph John Harrod as Common School Commissioner to succeed Col. Thos. B. Ford. Rev. L. P. Holten, the competing candidate was defeated by only one vote.

Now that the Congressional election is over and very few laboring men will have a vote in the city election, won't the council be allowed to finish the work they began on the Boulevard a month or two since.

Saint Clair street is like a plowed field all hills and hollows, and is a miserable place to ride over in a buggy. It should be attended to by the city or the Gas Company, who tore it up last month to lay their pipes.

Andrew T. Adams, Louisville, says: "I have used Brown's Iron Bitters for dyspepsia and exhaustion and am completely restored."

Mr. J. B. Veach is trying to organize an artillery company in this city, and has secured some twelve or fifteen names of young men who will go into it. All those who desire to join should leave their names with him.

The case of the Commonwealth against Frank E. Hart, charged with the murder of Jerry Lee, was called in the Circuit Court Thursday of last week but postponed until February term. A motion was made to grant him bail, but Judge L. Ford, the special judge elected to try the case, after taking up on Saturday to consider the matter, decided that it was not a bailable case.

The Grand Royal Arch Chapter of Kentucky, A. Y. M., in session at Louisville last month succeeded to the Grand Council of Kentucky the degrees of the Masonry, and requested the last officers of that body to call a meeting for the purpose of receiving the same and receiving work.
